This small pueblo has a good choice of bars, restaurants and local shops but is only a short drive from the larger towns of Ondara, with its own shopping centre, and Denia, where you are spoilt for choice for bars and restaurants and from here you can take the ferry across to the Balearic Islands (Mallorca, Ibiza and Minorca). The area is very popular with walkers, cyclists and golfers, as the area has been quoted by the World Health Organisation as being one of the healthiest climates in the world with more than 300 days of sunshine per year.
