This large south-facing villa has four bedrooms and three bathrooms and is split into two separate dwellings. It was first built in 1974, but recently reformed in 2010. Upstairs consists of a bright modern open-plan kitchen, a large living room, a glazed naya, 2 bedrooms and 2 bathrooms. The living room has a solid fuel stove fitted into the fireplace. The kitchen has white fitted cupboards and black granite worktops and a breakfast bar. The glazed naya has an open fireplace and there is also a smaller open terrace with seating area. From the terrace you can glimpse the sea and the tip of the Peñón de Ifach.

Downstairs is a second living room and kitchen, two bedrooms, one bathroom and a covered terrace with direct access to the swimming pool. There is also an outdoor covered summer kitchen, a covered dining area, and a pergola with comfy seating near the pool. The pool is 15 years' old. The house is on a private plot with gated entrance. There is a garage for one car and off-road parking for another car on the driveway.

The garden is designed for easy maintenance with plenty of areas tiled with potted plants and trees.
